HORATIO BOLSTER IN JAIL. What He Says of His Crime. He Was Brunk When He Shot James.

This morning a representative of THE STAR This morning a representative of The Star called at the jail, and while there had an interview with Horatio Bolster, who, on Saturday last, was found guilty of manslanguter on an indictment charging him with the murder of Joseph James in February last. The Star man congratulating him that the verdict was not given for the higher crime of murder, he answered, "Weil, I ought to be satisfied; it is a great deal better than if it had been like it was before." Reporter.—" Now, that the trial is before." Reporter..." Now, that the trial is over, what do you think of it?" Prisoner ... "The trial has been a very fair one. I have no fault to find. It might have been worse." Reporter .-Well, what do you think the punishment will Prisoner.-"I hope the judge will be lenient; the term for manslaughter may be as low as two years." Reporter.—"Or as high as eight." Prisoner.—"Well. I will throw myseif on the elemency of the court, and hope that he will give me the lighter sentence. I forget to say that I was pretty drank that night, but it would not have done to urge such a defence, as some people think that drunkenness adds to a crime. Reporter.—I never heard that before. Prisoner.—Yes, I was pretty drunk, and if I hadn't been I would not have been here. As it was, after I was beaten twice I would not have gone up the third time only I was smarting under the blows and half crazy with liquor, and down at Welch's they kept arging me to go and see James, charging me with being afraid, and so I went, when the affair happened as I stated before. I didn't want to go, nor did I want any gun, but they kept urging me, and Cropps took the gun" Reporter.—
"Well, if you go to prison and serve out your time, will you return to your old companions?" Prisoner .- " I never intend to do again as I have done in the past, and will try to do better in the future, in prison and out. I don't think I will again bear the hard name I have had."

THE MAD HOUSE STORY-4 Different Version of it .- Mr. William J. Mullen, the widely known prison agent, called on us to-day and made the fellowing statement in reference to an article which appeared vesterday, entitled "Shut up in a Mad House:" I have known the mother of the girl for 50 years, and have known the mother of the her birth. A better Christian woman I never knew. The brother is a loyal and good man, who served his country all through the war as a physician. Before that he was attached to several of our charitable institutions in connection with myself. The girl is perfectly sane to all ap-pearances, but at home she would break dishes and threaten to kill her mother and brother. Her mania consists in the persecution of her family, who for peace sake have tried to smother every-thing from the public. When company would come the girl would appear in the parlor per-fectly bland and peaceable. The very brother she complains of got her her situation in Washington. She behaved very well there, but when she came home her fits returned. The mother, for peace sake, gave her the $15,000, the interest of which she herself was entitled to until her death. The girl also has the $1,700 in cash .-

DE DEUNK, WITH CVER 8800 AND A GOLD WATCH IN RIS POCKETS.—On Saturday night, officer Arnold came across a man giving his name as Wm. O. Potts, quite drunk, and him to the station of the seventh precinct, where he was locked up until sober, but before doing so he was found to have on his person $835 and a gold watch. Yesterday morning he appeared all right and was released, his money and watch being returned to him. During the day officer Murphy run him in again, as he was quite as drunk as on the previous day, and had less than $80 in his possession. Lieut. Kelley this morning took him to headquarters, where he made his statement, and detectives McDevitt and Coomes undertook to recover the lost or stolen money, but had little hopes of success. By going around in the neighborhood of the depot, where he was carousing yesterday, they got a clue, and finally ascertained that nearly $700 and the watch had been hid under a stone, where they found it, and when Potts became per feetly sober restored it to him.

SHOODING AFFRAY .- On Saturday might, about 9.e clock, William Nicholson shot a man named Hilleary Hutchins; the hall taking effect in the month and lodging in the neck. It seems that both of the men had been gambling, and that blows were reserted to in consequence of a quarrel. Nicholson, it is said, tried to escape from his assailant, and ran several squares, pursued by Hutchins. When being pursued through east Market Space Nicholson turned upon his pursurer, and, drawing a Smith & Wesson revolver, warned him to come no further. The warning being unheeced, Nicholsen fired, with the effect above stated. The wounded man was immediately removed to Cropley's store, corner of Potossac and Bridge streets, where he was attended by Dr. Bodisco Williams, after which he was carried to his home on Fac tory Hill. The physicians do not regard the wound as a fatal one. Seen after the shooting Nicholson surrendered himself, and was locked up until this morning, when he was sent over to the Police Court to be arraigned on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. Nicholson was brought before Judge Enell this morning, and admitted to bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance to answer the charge whenever the complainant is able to appear against him. Both Nicholson and Hutch is are sporting men, and the latter is a powerful man, and has been engaged in a number of desperate personal encounters. A few years since he shot and killed a man named Ennis, for which he was sent to the penitentiary for a term of years. He says he does not desire to prosecute Nicholson, ashe (Hutchins) was wholly to blame in the affair.
